Short title

1 This Act may be cited as the Occupational Health and Safety Act.
1996, c. 7, s. 1.

Internal Responsibility System

2 The foundation of this Act is the Internal Responsibility System which

- (a) is based on the principle that
 - (i) employers, contractors, constructors, employees and self-employed persons at a workplace, and
 - (ii) the owner of a workplace, a supplier of goods or provider of an occupational health or safety service to a workplace or an architect or professional engineer, all of whom can affect the health and safety of persons at the workplace, share the responsibility for the health and safety of persons at the workplace;

(b) assumes that the primary responsibility for creating and maintaining a safe and healthy workplace should be that of each of these parties, to the extent of each party's authority and ability to do so;

(c) includes a framework for participation, transfer of information and refusal of unsafe work, all of which are necessary for the parties to carry out their responsibilities pursuant to this Act and the regulations; and

(d) is supplemented by the role of the Occupational Health and Safety Division of the Department of Labour and Advanced Education, which is not to assume responsibility for creating and maintaining safe and healthy workplaces, but to establish and clarify the responsibilities of the parties under the law, to support them in carrying out their responsibilities and to intervene appropriately when those responsibilities are not carried out. 1996, c. 7, s. 2; 2010, c. 66, s. 1; 2011, c. 24, s. 1.
